Moravian History

Celebrate America's 250th at Unity Moravian Church
June 20th at 12 PM

Presentation by Dr. John Ruddiman on Early Moravians in America.

8300 Concord Church Rd. Lewisville, NC

John A. Ruddiman is an Associate Professor of History at Wake Forest University. He received his Ph.D. from Yale University. His first book, Becoming Men of Some Consequence: Youth and Military Service in the Revolutionary War (2014), explores the lives of young men in the Continental army. That project has led to essays on 'General Orders' and orderly books in the Continental Army, George Rogers Clark's campaign in Illinois, Samuel Shaw's post-war experiences in China, and Traguott Bagge's work as a historian of the Revolution for North Carolina's Moravians. He is currently at work on his next book – Is This the Land of Liberty? – which examines enslaved Black Americans' changing relationships with soldiers during the War of American Independence. Across these projects, his work as a historian of Revolutionary America explores how people built their lives, reshaped their communities, and constructed meaning for themselves and for posterity.
